Caroline is a 33-year-old single mum. Along with a few of her friends, she's part of the M.A (mothers anonymous) association, a conversation group for women who are a little overwhelmed by their motherhood. Caroline shares her (often tragi-comic) attempts to find love and companionship, while Philippe, a new and slightly disregarded arrival at M.A., reflects on his status as a 'new dad'.

A funny, intelligent, and moving graphic novel, a touch of chick lit with a feminist twist that comments on one of the big social subjects of our time: the new family model.

Et c'est pareil en société.
Avec des familles, je me sens vilain petit canard.

Les autres couples me renvoient à mon échec.

En plus, les femmes mariées se méfient de moi.
