Alika is a young warrior with a troubled past.

With her giant panda at her side, she decides to take part an enormous treasure hunt organized by Lord Albruck, in the mysterious lands that border their country. Aware of the quest's risks, Alika allies herself with the aged Orzo, and with Homs, his taciturn bodyguard. But the companions have no idea that they are about to set out on the most incredible adventures, and brave the most terrible dangers, that any of them could have imagined.

And yet... Alika seems strangely familiar with these foreign lands. What dark secrets is she hiding from her fellows ?
