Buck, Sonny and Tumbler are posted to Kadena airbase in Japan to carry out high-risk intelligence missions in North-West USSR. They'll fly the spy plane, U2, and also the famous Blackbird, the Mach 3 reconnaissance aircraft. But the Russians have invented a new secret weapon that might just change the course of history...

This is the final installment from Jean-Michel Charlier, celebrating the 70-year anniversary of the series.

The Buck Danny adventures were created by Georges Troisfontaines, Victor Hubinon and Jean-Michel Charlier.
