He's bearded, grumpy, friendly, and frankly, he looks a little bit like an ogre, but after 45 years of experience and training from Franquin, Jean-Claude Fournier is a legend of the comic book world. The only author who, as well as having drawn and written 9 different volumes, can boast of having personally known all the authors of the Spirou comics. Joub and Nicoby play at archaeologists for a day, and invite you to join them in their journey into the lair of the Master...
