This three-part series throws you right into the midst of the vicious vegetation and flamboyant flora of the tropical island of Pandala. This is your ticket for a one-way trip to the DOFUS universe: once you're in, there's no coming out again!

A young Pandawa, the only survivor of an attack on his village, is learning to face the harsh reality of the big wide world. He'll find peace only once he's avenged his loved ones. His sole clue is half of a mysterious medallion he found close to his family's corpses. Only when the person who bears the other half of the medallion breathes their last breath will Pandhravan's troubles be ended. An adventure full of unexpected meetings.
