A new life begins for Marion when she and her mother move into the family home that they have inherited. It is a magical place, with an unimpeded view and a beach at the bottom of the garden. Their closest neighbour, the lighthouse keeper, is a bit gruff, and the stones on the moorland bear strange carvings, but everything seems so peaceful... That is, until Marion decides to take a closer look at the lighthouse...

Pendant plus de deux ans, nous avons vécu
quotidiennement avec Marion et Caroline.

À la fin de l'aventure, nous avons eu du mal à nous en séparer et nous espérons
bien pouvoir les retrouver prochainement !
