This is the hilarious series about the life of Spirou before he grew up to become the adventurer that we know and love today. Always playing some practical joke or other, either on the long-suffering priest, or poor Father Langélusse or his gym teacher, the highly unpleasant Mr Mégot; little Spirou takes a break from his mischievous pranks only to check out the girls' showers. And indeed there are girls in his life: his adored Suzette and his captivating math teacher, Claudia Chiffre...

The series has been turned into an animated series, more information here.
