Océane is a simple middle-school girl. Which means that, like most of the girls at school, she is unfortunately commented on, judged or mocked by certain boys depending on the outfits she wears and sometimes posts on the networks. An attitude that has a name: harassment! In fact, four schoolboys have set up a whatsapp group to rate the girls... Fortunately, Océane, with the help of her friend Lou (the future successful singer!) and her other friends, is not going to let herself be bullied! Even if the prospect of drama is always a possibility when fighting for rights as simple and banal as wearing a crop top...
