When they set off to study the northern glaciers, the young physicist and his girlfriend Lora would never even have dreamed what they'd find there: perfectly preserved extraterrestrials, without any hope of coming back to life... that is, until Doctor Hugo Kala comes along! Under the wing of this scientific genius, our heroes set out on an intergalactic journey to Terango, the cruel planet of the Sectan...In 1967, noticing the sad lack of "futuristic" science fiction in

Tintin magazine, Greg created this superb series for his friend Eddy Paape. Forty years on, re-immense yourself in the adventures of this Flash Gordon à la française ! (Or, to be precise, à la franco-belge...)

The adventures of the handsome doctor, his fiancée Lora and his mentor Hugo Kala on the planet Terango have a flavor of mystery with a scientific bent, taken from the cutting-edge research of the period.
