Greece, 5th century B.C. When he awakens, half-naked, and opens his eyes to the cold light of day, Minas remembers nothing, not even his own identity. It's obvious that he knows how to fight, but what is he doing in this unknown city at the foot of the temple of Athena? Suddenly, the memories come surging back and the nightmare begins again! Thomas Mosdi ('Xoco', 'Korrigans', 'Succubes') and David Cerqueira ('L'Évangile selon Satan') lead us on an epic adventure in this genre-crossing tale, cleverly mixing adventure, mythology and psychology.
