A few months before Rosa Parks refused to give up her seat on a segregated bus in Montgomery, Alabama, kicking off the U.S. civil rights movement, making headlines around the world and becoming an enduring symbol of the fight for dignity and equality, another young black woman refused to give up her seat on a segregated bus in Montgomery, Alabama. She was the wrong person at the right time, and so History did not choose her. Her name was Claudette Colvin and this is her story.

À ROMANE.

Prenez une profonde inspiration. Quittez le lieu qui est le vôtre, passez les ruisseaux, les fleuves, l'océan, sentez la brise.

Survolez New York, la statue de la Liberté, l'Empire State Building, longez la côte, cap au sud.

L'air se réchauffe.
