Just out of prison, Paci is contacted by his ex-boss. The boss wants Paci to return to his Go Fast job, but Paci has met Miguy and intends to settle down for good. Between new love, good resolutions and old reflexes that come back quickly, the former trafficker has to make choices at 100 km/h, from Bordeaux to Calais.

Vincent Perriot tells the story of a drug-addicted France with feverish strokes that thrive on speed and violence, while avoiding stereotypes. Dense and ultra-nervous, this definitive edition of "Paci" reconciles stories of big guns and big cylinders with the tradition of the psychological thriller.
