If you've always dreamed of wielding a lightsaber or shrinking your kids, wake up: the cinema is a load of rubbish!

If you also do not want to die stupid, discover Marion Montaigne's popular science comic blog, the famous Professor Moustache dissects the scientific aberrations that your movies and favorite series are full of. Science, it is perhaps not cinema, but with Professor Moustache, it's terribly funny! Because the objective at the end of each article, is above all to have learned a little, but also laughed a lot! Award for best album of the year at Cyclone Comics Festival 2011 (International Book Festival and Comic Book Meetup).
