Paris, 1889. The newly completed Eiffel Tower is the star of the Universal Exhibition, but a mysterious serial killer is decimating its visitors. Young police inspector Eleanor Kowalski has only Jules Castignac, a somewhat eccentric new recruit, to help her find the culprit before the gutter press labels the great iron structure the "Tower of Terror." Ignoring the advice of her irascible superior officer, Eleanor follows her instincts and drags her new partner into a highspeed chase across the City of Lights.
