February 7, 2017. The international lunar station is not responding. And for a good reason. A monstrous extra-terrestrial has woken up, annihilating life all around! But this massacre is only the tip of the iceberg that will hit the Earth with full force; in five places, numerous creatures with awesome powers come out of their deep centuries-long sleep. Humankind is not ready... except for Helius, a mysterious humanoid who seems to have known these extra-terrestrials for a long, long time...
